ACADEMIC PROJECT

A DATA MINING TOOL FOR NEURLOGICAL DISORDER PREDICTION USING FEATURE SELECTION TECHNIQUES

The main aim of the project is to predict one of the most commonly effecting neurological disorders i.e., Parkinson's disease. It can be predicted by using several machine learning algorithms which gives the prediction efficiency that would be beneficial for the patients who are suffering from Parkinson's disease

Advantages

- Reliability
- Cost effective
- Portability
- These algorithms help in detecting the diseases in the early stages. Using this report better treatment can be given to the patient to cure the disease.

Technologies used

Programming Languages	:	Python
Operating System	:	Windows
Dataset	:	Parkinson's dataset
Web Technologies	:	HTML5, CSS3
IDE/Utilities	:	Visual Studio Code

STRENGTHS

- Excellent team player
- Quick learner
- Adaptable to new environments
- Effective Communication
- Strong work ethics

CO-CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES
